A Living Will, also known as an "Advance Directive", allows a person to state their end-of-life medical treatment and care. This document does not hold any bearings after death, it solely directs physicians to care for a person based on what is stated in their Living Will, especially with issues such as DNR (do not resuscitate).

Guidelines for the Barthel Index of Activities of Daily Living General The Index should be used as a record of what a patient does, NOT as a record of what a patient could do. The main aim is to establish degree of independence from any help, physical or verbal, however minor and for whatever reason.
